Putting in pools made easier

SOUTH Australia's Australian Outdoor Living understands that buying a pool is a big step for any family and makes the process easy as a one-stop shop for all of their clients' needs.

The leading outdoor home improvement specialist not only sells and installs pools but coordinates all paperwork and planning, even council approvals.

Australian Outdoor Living managing director Colin Kuchel said buying and installing a pool could be a daunting and time-consuming process but his company made it easy for customers to achieve their dream of enjoying a beautiful swimming pool in their backyard.

He said AOL prided itself on keeping its customers up to date during the process, taking any stress out of the unknown.

"There can be pitfalls for the unaware, so AOL takes care of everything from the initial quote to design, and council approval to installation," Mr Kuchel said.

AOL is the exclusive SA dealership of Australia's Barrier Reef Pools.

Barrier Reef Pools is the largest manufacturer in Australia, with the country's biggest pool manufacturing facilities, and has an array of state-of-the-art, fibreglass pools to choose from, according to AOL.

"Each Barrier Reef Pool comes with a 25-year structural warranty ensuring you and your family can enjoy this wonderful asset for years to come," Mr Kuchel said. Australian Outdoor Living added swimming pools to its product line in July 2009 and has already become one of SA's largest pool installers.

"South Australians have come to trust AOL when it comes to pools because we are reliable, customer service is a top priority and we offer full training and after sales service once your pool is installed," Mr Kuchel said. Established in 2005, Australian Outdoor Living is a market leader in outdoor lifestyle home improvements, encompassing outdoor blinds, artificial lawns, roller shutters, verandas and pergolas, timber decking and swimming pools.
