THINKING ABOUT | CARPORTS

At Australian Outdoor Living we aim to deliver new standards of excellence and innovation in outdoor living solutions. One of the many areas that we help our customers in is the creation of carports.

At Australian Outdoor Living we aim to create and deliver a new standard of excellence and innovation in our outdoor living solutions. One of the many ways that we can help you create your dream is with the addition of a carport.

Once considered to be nothing more than a necessity, carports are now a simple but effective way of enhancing your home's aesthetics. Our premium outdoor solutions cover a wide range of requirements and needs. Adding value and practicality to your home - helping you make the right choices to suit your home and budget.

Having a carport means far more than simply adding on sloped roof on the side of a house. Chosen and fitted correctly, our carports make a great feature, adding visual and structural value to your home. They are built to an exceptionally high structural standard to ensure that the vehicles or valuables they are intended for are protected from the elements in the best way possible.

THINGS TO CONSIDER | CARPORT DESIGN

After deciding to buy a carport from Australian Outdoor Living, our experts will ensure that you have a design that perfectly complements your property. Our design consultants offer free, no obligation advice because a great carport design should be constructed in partnership with an expert. Ensuring you get a great result every time!

There really is no limit to carport designs and functions, so you can have the finished product that you have always dreamed of.

We look after all the processes involved with council approval, then we guarantee a build time of 4 weeks from final approval. All of this is done under our fixed price building agreements, meaning there are no nasty shocks or surprises along the way and you know exactly how much it is going to cost you from the very start of the process.

Protect Your Car

The harsh Australian sun is notorious for playing havoc with car bodywork but the protection of a carport also means that storm, rain and even damage from wildlife is kept at bay.

Details and Trim

With the choice of steel or a wide range of different timbers along with an endless list of design features to choose from, our carports can blend in with any architectural style, also allowing you to express creative flare in a unique way.

Fully Qualified Trades People

All Australian Outdoor Living carports come backed with the benefit of our 15 years of expertise. Our fully licensed and qualified craftsmanship and construction teams mean the work will be undertaken to the highest standards exactly to your specifications.
